

RESOURCE SHEET 7: PREDICTION OF RESULTS - LINE CHART

All resources available free of charge for educational use from www.eta-schools.co.uk

Date:

The class has already started collecting information on the traffic going past your school during the day. You are recording your results on a tally chart to show not only the amount of traffic but also the mode people are using.

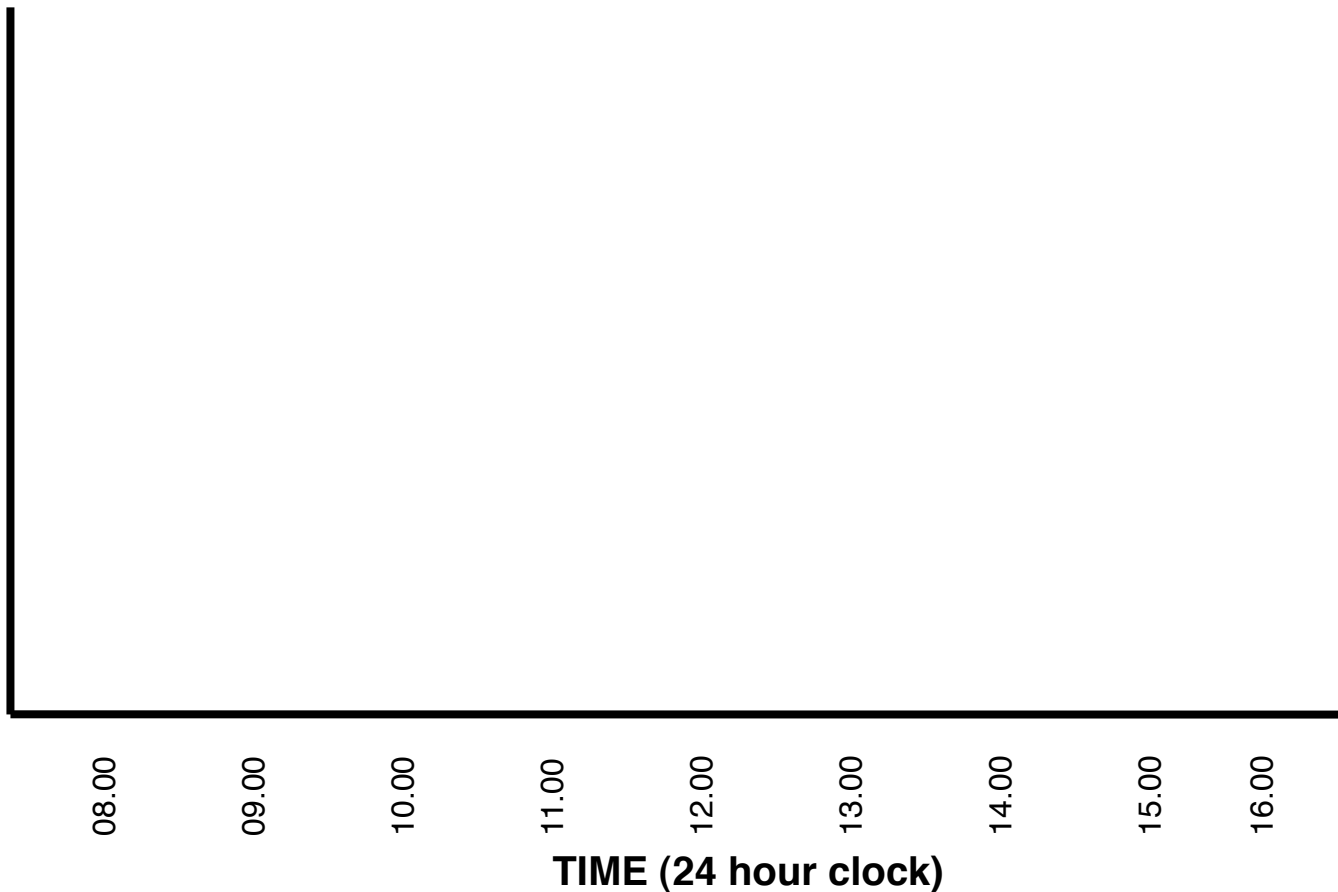

Using a different colour pencil, or a different line type for each of the 6 modes, draw an estimate of what you think the graph might look like tomorrow when you have all the results. Get ready to give your reasons.

Your graph tomorrow will show real numbers of vehicles. However this graph is only a prediction and will only show the pattern you think might emerge and so there are no numbers.

Lots of vehicles

No vehicles at all
